The new MHLS catalog, powered by Innovative's Vega Discover

helps patrons uncover search results and content with the highest degree of accuracy and relevancy available in an online catalog. Vega Discover provides the experience patrons expect, using a simple, intuitive interface and linked data to create an immersive library experience that drives interest and exploration while advancing your library's role in the community. View the roadmap for planned product updates.

Contents:

1. What's new – summary of view changes
2. Features - Learn where you can find information about resources and related titles, concepts, and people.
3. How do I? - Find out how to search for resources, create and manage your own personal lists, place holds, and more.

What's New?

The homepage

Patrons will notice the change the first time they visit! The customizable homepage includes opportunities to discover new material in all formats, reading lists, author spotlights and more! Patrons can use the toolbar at the top of the screen to change the display language, get help, find library information and ours, jump to their saved bookmarks and login.

The Record View

When the content is of a work is equivalent the records are “rolled up” into a single view, showing the titles formats in tabs. If there are multiple editions of a title within the format, the editions can be viewed separately for lookup and requesting. More content connections are available through Syndetics Unbound and record concepts.

The Patron Experience

Once logged in Patrons have a sensational view of checked out items, holds, fines, Bookmarked lists, saved searches and reading history-if opted in. The views are complete with cover images and link to the catalog. Patrons can even share lists.

So much more...

Once you experience the new catalog you will find that there are many new elements. In the next pages we will provide specific features and functionality.

Features

The Concept Page

The Concept page provides resources, contributors, and topics related to a given concept. The Concept page also provides icons to save the concept to My Bookshelf and end a link to the concept using email.

1	Save the concept to My Bookshelf for later use.
2	Send a link to the concept using email.
3	See all related resources.
4	See all related contributors.
5	See all related topics.

To use a Concept page

Search for a concept, or select a Concept link from a Person page or a Resource page.

Select from the available resources, related persons, and related concepts.

Do one or more of the following:

To save the concept to My Bookshelf, select For Later  .

To send a link to the concept using email, select Options  .

To go back to the previous page, select Back.

The Location Drawer

The Location drawer lists the availability and descriptive characteristics of resources at your library. You can check the availability of resources at different locations and place holds. You can also search for serial publications by volume and call number.

The following image shows the Location drawer.

1	Select a location.
2	Place a hold.
3	Search for serial publications by call number and volume.
4	Publication date
5	Call number and shelf location
6	Physical characteristics of the resource and language

The screenshot shows a 'Locations' drawer for the book 'Pride and prejudice'. It features a search bar, a 'Place Hold' button, and a list of resources with their call numbers, shelf locations, and physical characteristics. The numbered callouts point to the following elements:

- 1: Location dropdown menu (currently showing 'Adamsville')
- 2: 'Place Hold' button
- 3: Search input field
- 4: Publication date (2009)
- 5: Call number and shelf location (Call Number: YA AusJ, Adamsville YA Paperbacks)
- 6: Physical characteristics (472, 16 pages ; 20 cm, Language: Eng)

To use the Location drawer

1. Select an available location from either the Search Results page or a Resource page.
2. (Optional) Search for a serial publication by call number and volume.
3. Do one of the following:
  - Note the call number, and retrieve the item from the shelf.
  - Select Place Hold.

The My Account Window

The My Account window lists summary information about your checkouts, holds, fines, and fees. It also lists your home library and your account expiration date. You must sign in to use the My Account window.

The image to the right shows the My Account window.

To use the My Account window

1. In the upper-right section of any page, select your name.
2. On the My Account window, select your name to go to your profile on My Bookshelf.
3. Select one of the following values to go to the corresponding tab on My Bookshelf:
  - Checkouts
  - Holds
  - Fines/Fees

My Bookshelf

You can save search queries, resource records, person records, and concept records to My Bookshelf for later use. You can create and edit lists to organize your saved items. And, depending on your library, you can view your reading history.

If you sign in, you can view your account information, saved lists, checkouts, holds, fines, and fees.

The following image shows My Bookshelf.

1	Vega personalizes My Bookshelf when you sign in. Select this tab to see your account information.
2	Save resource records, person records, and concept records.
3	Save search terms for later use.
4	View your reading history.

To use My Bookshelf

- To open My Bookshelf, do one of the following:
  - Select the up arrow in the lower-right section of any page.
  - Select the tab that you want to use.
  - Select the Bookmark icon in the upper-right section of the page. (You can also select the Bookmark icon again to close My Bookshelf.)
- If desired, drag the top border to adjust the height of My Bookshelf.
- On the Search Results page, a Person page, or a Concept page, select the For Later  icon to save an item to My Bookshelf.
- Do one or more of the following:

5. To close My Bookshelf, select either the down arrow or the Bookmark icon in the upper-right section of the page.

The Person Page

The Person page provides a description of an author, editor, fictional character, or other person who has a relationship to a resource. You can check related resources, people, and topics. The people and topics that appear share library resources with the person listed at the top of the page.

The Person page provides icons to save the person record to My Bookshelf and send a link to the person record using email.

Hemingway, Ernest, 1899-1961

Ernest Miller Hemingway was born in the family home in Oak Park, Ill., on July 21, 1899, in high school. Hemingway enjoyed working on the 1-page, 800-word newspaper where he wrote his first articles. Upon graduation in the spring of 1917, Hemingway took a job as a scale reporter for the Kansas City Star. After a short stint in the U.S. Army as a volunteer Red Cross ambulance driver in (read more)

The Resource page

The Resource page provides a description of a resource. You can check the following items:

- Availability
- Location
- Format
- Bibliographic information
- Related resources
- Related people
- Related topics

Vega displays related resources, people, and topics for all available formats, not just the selected format.

The Resource page also provides icons to save the resource to My Bookshelf, export a citation, and send a link to the resource using email.

Syndetics Unbound

If your library has enabled Syndetics Unbound, you can see expanded information about a resource. Examples include the following:

- Other books in a series
- Reading level
- Reader reviews
- Professional reviews
- Awards
- Suggested authors and titles
- Book profiles
- Author profiles
- Excerpt previews
- Ratings

The Smart search

If you search for a concept, Vega finds the closest match that has the highest number of available resources and displays a link to the matching Concept page. For example, if you enter global warming in the search bar, Vega displays a link to the Concept page for global warming. On the Concept page, you'll find a description of the concept and links to related resources, persons, and topics.

The following image shows the smart search feature.

How do I?...

Cancel a hold request

You can cancel hold requests from the Holds tab on My Bookshelf. You must sign in to your account to cancel a hold request.

To cancel a hold request

1. On My Bookshelf, select the Holds tab.
2. Select Cancel Hold for the resources that you no longer want.

Change your passcode

Depending on your library, you can change your passcode from either the Log in page, or from your patron profile on My Bookshelf.

To change your passcode from the Log in page

1. In the upper-right section of any page, select Log in.
2. On the window that appears, select Sign in.
3. On the Log in page, select Forget Your PIN?
4. Follow the instructions.

To change your passcode from your patron profile

1. On My Bookshelf, select Profile.
2. Select Edit Profile.
3. Select Change Passcode.
4. In the Current Passcode box, enter your passcode.
5. In the New Passcode box, enter a new passcode.

Be sure to follow your library's passcode requirements if present.

6. In the Confirm New Passcode box, enter the new passcode again.
7. Select Change Passcode.

Check availability, place a hold, or access a resource

You can perform the following tasks:

- Check availability
- Place a hold
- Access a resource
- Change the pickup location of an item

And, depending on your library, you can borrow items by mail.

Physical resources

Electronic resources

Export citations

You can export citation data to the following reference management software:

- EasyBib
- Mendeley
- RefWorks
- Zotero

You can also export citation data in RIS (Research Information Systems) format and then import the data to reference management software that supports RIS format.

To export citation data

1. On the Search Results page, a Resource page, or the Bookmarks tab on My Bookshelf, select Options  for the work you want to cite.
2. Select Export Citation.
3. Select the edition that you want to export citation data for.
4. Select from the available links.
5. Do one of the following:
  - If you select a reference management site, Vega takes you to the respective site to continue. For information on using specific software, see the reference management software site.
  - If you select RIS File, Vega saves the file to your Downloads folder. Import the file to your reference management software to continue.

Freeze and unfreeze a hold

You can freeze and unfreeze holds from the Holds tab on My Bookshelf.

If you place a hold on an item, but you want to wait to pick it up, you can freeze the hold to keep your place in the hold queue. When you are ready to pick up the item, you can unfreeze the hold and pick up the item when it becomes available.

You must sign in to your account to freeze or unfreeze a hold.

To freeze a hold

1. On My Bookshelf, select the Holds tab.

2. Find the item that you want to freeze a hold for.
3. Select the down arrow next to the Cancel Hold button, and select Freeze.

To unfreeze a hold

1. On My Bookshelf, select the Holds tab.
2. Find the item that you want to unfreeze a hold for.
3. Select the down arrow next to the Cancel Hold button, and select Unfreeze.

Find a resource at the library

To find an available resource at your library, you can check the availability information on the Search Results page and the Resource page.

For best results when you check the availability of resources, sign in to your library account.

On shelf at your home library

If the resource is available at your home library, the system displays a green check mark icon and the words, "On shelf at <name of your home library>" followed by the call number and shelf location. Use the call number and shelf location to find the resource at the library.

To select a home library, see View or edit your profile.

If you aren't signed in, and your library system has many branches, your preferred library might not immediately appear. A link that says "View all locations" appears below the displayed locations. To see the list of all library branches, availability, and call numbers for the resource, select the "View all locations" link.

Manage lists

Save a list of items

You can save items to the Bookmarks tab on My Bookshelf for later use. You can also create your own lists to organize your saved items. For example, you might want to create a list for cookbooks, a list for pleasure reading, and a list for DVDs.

You must sign in to Vega to create a new list. Lists that you create remain on the system until you delete them. If you save items to My Bookshelf and later sign in, Vega also saves the items. If you don't sign in, you can only use the default list named For Later, and Vega removes your list items when you exit the system.

You can create a maximum of 400 lists.

Watch the video. (Opens in a new tab.)

To save a list of items

1. Enter search criteria in the search bar and either press Enter or select Search .
2. On the Search Results page, a Resource page, Person page, or Concept page, select For Later .

A message appears that indicates where the item was saved. By default, Vega saves the item to the For Later list. To view the For Later list, go to the Bookmarks tab on My Bookshelf and select For Later.

3. If you want to undo the selection, click the icon again.
4. Do one or more of the following:

Perform an advanced search

In basic search mode, you first perform a search, and then refine the search after you see the search results. In advanced search mode, you can add refinements to your initial search, and continue to modify your search to narrow the search results.

The system remains in advanced search mode until you switch back to basic search mode. You can switch between basic search and advanced search mode as you wish.

When you switch from advanced search to basic search mode, or from basic search to advanced search mode, the system clears all facet filters and search terms.

When you select a facet filter from the Refine Results panel, the system locks the facet so you can continue to refine the search and still retain the selected facets. You can unlock facet filters as needed.

To perform an advanced search

1. Under the search box, select Advanced Search.
The Refine Results panel opens.
2. Enter search terms and select facet filters from the Refine Results panel to narrow your search results.
For tips on searching, see the instructions below the search box when you use advanced search mode. For more tips, see Search for resources.

Refine a search

On the Search Results page, you can refine a search to narrow the search results. For example, you can limit the search results to resources that were published in the last 10 years and are available online.

To refine a search

1. On the Refine Results panel, select from the following sections:
  - Availability
  - Date
  - Donor

- Format
- Age Group
- Persons
- Concepts
- Language
- Locations
- Publishers
- New materials

When you expand a section, Vega shows you the number of available items for each facet or filter.

2. If a person or concept section contains a large number of facets that you can use to filter the search results, a window opens. Do the following:
  - (Optional) Search for a facet.
  - Select the facet filters you want.
  - Select Confirm.
3. When you select a filter, a lock icon appears to the left. If you want to keep the filter selected for your next search, select the lock icon .
4. Select Apply.

Run a saved search

If you previously saved a search, you can run the search again to check if the library acquired a new book by an author you like or about a topic that interests you. Saved searches remain with your account until you delete them.

You must sign in to your account to use this feature.

To run a saved search

1. On My Bookshelf, select the Saved Searches tab.
2. Select the search name.

Vega displays the items that match the search criteria on the Search Results page.

Save a search

You can save search criteria to your patron account so that you can run the search in the future to check for new items. You could use this feature to see if the library acquired a new book by an author you like or about a topic that interests you.

You can save up to 100 searches. Saved searches remain with your account until you delete them.

You must sign in to your account to use this feature.

To save search criteria

1. Enter search criteria in the search bar and either press Enter or select Search . If you want to narrow the search results, refine the search.

2. On the Search Results page, select Save Search  Save Search.

If you're not signed in, the Sign in window opens. Sign in to continue.

The Save Search window opens.

3. On the Save Search tab, enter a name for the search.
4. Select Save Search.

Search for periodicals

Depending on your library, search results for materials such as magazines and DVD series can be listed in a summarized format or as individual resources.

For example, suppose a library has multiple copies of the June issue of a monthly magazine. Depending on the library, the June issue can either appear once in your search results, or all the individual copies of the June issue can appear.

The following image shows search results listed in summarized format.

The following table describes the available icons and library holdings information.

1	Save the resource to My Bookshelf for later use.
2	Export a citation or send a link to the resource using email.
3	Call number of the item.
4	Latest received identifies the newest issue or item in the library holdings.
5	Library has lists the full range of issues or volumes that the library has for a serial publication title. In this illustration, the library has issues from January 01, 1980 to June 30, 2020. The library also has issues in bound volumes that range from 1900 to 1980.
6	Other locations lists availability at other locations. If you are signed in, Vega lists your home library first. If you are not signed in, Vega lists the locations alphabetically.

To search for periodicals

1. Search for a topic, person, or title.
2. If you want to narrow the search results, refine the search.

6. Select a pickup location.
7. (Optional) Select I don't need this item after, and enter the date that you no longer need the resource.

If the resource isn't fulfilled by the date you enter, the system removes the hold request.

8. Select Confirm Location.

A confirmation window appears.

To check the status of the resource, go to the Holds tab on the My Account page.

Search for resources

When you search for library resources, you can enter search terms such as the following:

- Book title
- Author
- Publisher
- Donor
- Subject
- Call number and volume (for serial publications)

You can also search by the following record identifiers:

- ISBN (international standard book number)
- ISSN (international standard serial number)
- National bibliography number
- Other standard identifier

- Control number

In the search results, Vega displays items that match your search terms. If you select a title or an author, Vega displays information about the resource and related items, contributors, and topics that you can explore.

You must sign in to access all the features that Vega offers. When you sign in and perform a search, the Search Results page and the Resource page list availability at your home library first. Vega lists availability at other locations after the home location.

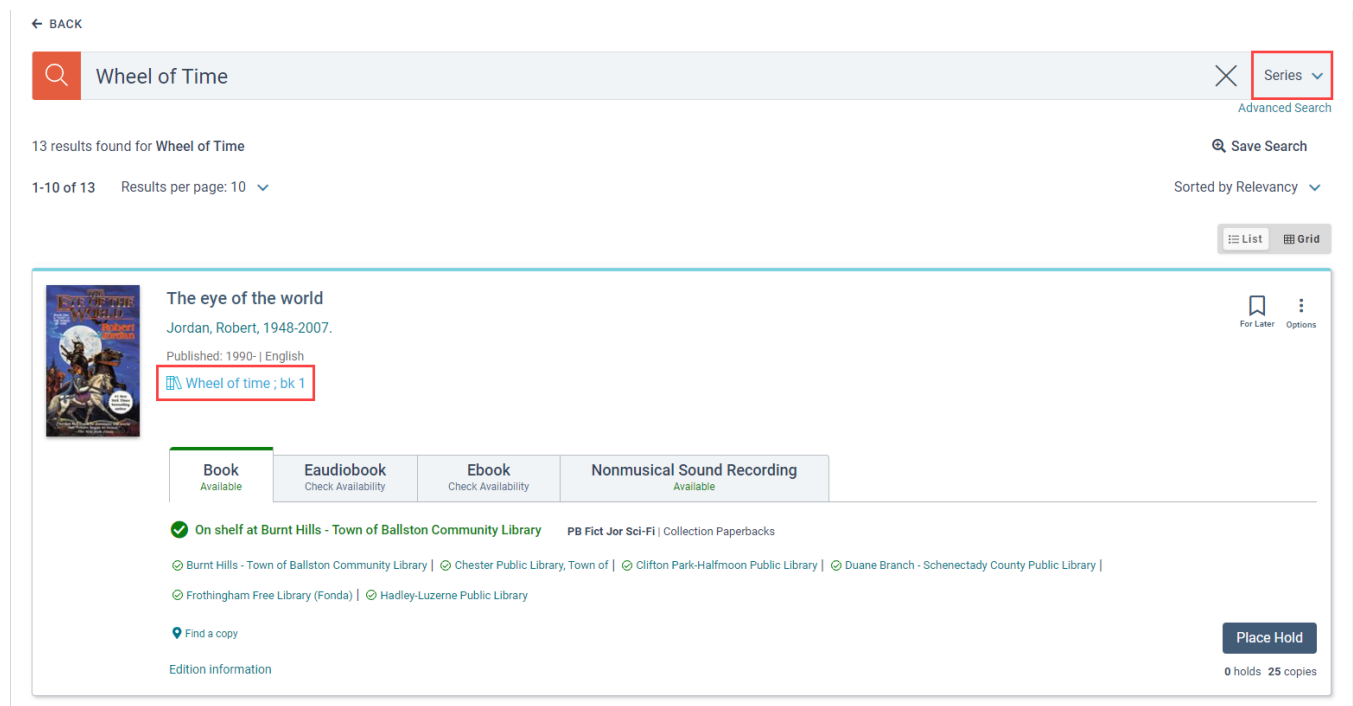

After your initial search, you can search for serial publications by call number and volume. For more information, see the following topics:

- The Resource page
- The Location drawer

Copy the search link	<ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>a. Select Copy Search Link.</li><li>b. Paste the link where you want.</li></ol>

Sort search results

You can sort search results to see newly-acquired materials (including materials that were not recently published). You can also sort search results by the bibliographic record creation date, and simultaneously use the Refine Results panel to refine the search results to a specific date range.

You can sort search results by the following criteria:

- Relevancy (default value)
- Date: newest

- Date: oldest
- New Materials

To sort search results

1. Search for a material.
2. To sort the search results, select from the Sorted by list in the upper-right section of the Search Results page.

Select a language

The first time you sign in to Vega, the system uses your browser's language setting. You can manually select from the languages that are available on your Vega site as in the following image.

If only one language is available, the language list doesn't appear.

To select a language

- In the upper-right section of the page, select a language from the list.

Share a resource, person, or concept

You can send an email that contains a link to resources, persons, or concepts so that you can refer to them later or share them with others.

To ensure the email doesn't go to your spam folder, add the library's email address to your contacts.

To share a resource, person, or concept by email

1. Do one of the following:
  - On a Resource page, Person page, or Concept page, select Options .

- On My Bookshelf, from the Bookmarks tab, select a resource that you want to share, and then select Options  .
2. Select from the available email options.
The system enters the resource title, person, or concept in the subject line.
  3. Enter an email address, and select Send.

Sign in and out of Vega

Sign in to access your account and all the Vega features. If you don't sign in, you can only perform the following tasks:

- Search for resources
- Temporarily save resources to My Bookshelf
- Share resources, persons, and concepts using email

To sign in to Vega

1. In the upper-right section of any page, select Log in.
2. On the window that appears, select Sign in.
3. On the Log in page, enter your login credentials.

Depending on your library, you can use either your barcode or your user name in the Barcode box.

4. Select Submit.

To sign in to Vega from My Bookshelf

1. Select My Bookshelf to expand it. You can also use the Bookmark icon  in the upper-right section of the page to open and close My Bookshelf.

To sign out of Vega

1. In the upper-right section of any page, select your name.
2. Select Sign out.

View library information

You can view information about library branches such as location, hours, and contact information. You can also use the available links to contact a library or go to a library's website.

To view library branch information

1. In the upper-right section of any page, select Library info .
2. Select the library branch that you want to see information for.

View or edit your profile

You can view your profile information on My Bookshelf. Your library may allow you to edit some or nearly all of your profile information. Fields that you are not allowed to edit, such as your card number, include a question mark icon that lists contact information for your library.

If you enter a nickname, the system uses it as your display name and to personalize the name of My Bookshelf.

Set your home library to the library branch that you usually use.

The system uses your preferred pickup location as the default pickup location for holds that you place on library materials. You can change the pickup location when you place holds if desired.

You can turn your reading history on or off, and, depending on your library, you can select your notification preference.

You can also change your passcode. For more information, see Change your passcode.

If you owe fines or fees above the limit that your library sets, your library may restrict the ability to edit your profile, but you can always modify your nickname.

To View or Edit Your Profile

1. On My Bookshelf, select Profile.
2. Select Edit Profile.
3. Edit the information as desired.

If you see a field that has a question mark icon next to it, select the icon to see additional information.

4. Select Save.

View Your Reading History

You can view a list of materials that you previously checked out. The list contains links to the materials you checked out and the checkout dates.

You can search for titles in your reading history and sort the titles.

You can opt out of this feature. If you opt out, the system clears all items from your reading history.

To opt in to reading history
